Product Description

Dermalax Dermal Filler Hyaluronic Acid 1.1ml For Anti Wrinkle

When it comes to highly effective dermal fillers

Dermalax is one of the first brands that comes to the mind of experienced and certified cosmetic surgeons. That makes a lot of sense given that it is developed and manufactured by trustworthy medical device company Across which specializes in the design and production of safe and dependable Hyaluronic Acid (HA) products such as those from the Revolax and Dermalax ranges.

Our Product

Dermalax offers an abundance of advanced skin rejuvenation and pain-free facial sculpting treatment options that were developed to be injected into the skin at a different depth (epidermis, dermis or subcutaneous tissue), depending on the unique indications and properties of each of these professional-grade filler injections. The latter is also characterized by its wide application. They can be applied into the skin via injection at various areas of the face including the nose, cheeks, between or around the eyes, chin, lips or in the perioral zone. The effects include immediate wrinkle and fold removal (superficial, medium or deep), as well as instant facial contouring (lip augmentation, enhancement of chin, cheeks, and nose, etc.).
